You will be given the tools to discover your true potential and change your behaviour through the power of the unconscious mind.

Why this Workshop?

It is surprisingly common to find people who have ridden for years to suddenly start having a lack of confidence for whatever reason. Maybe they had an accident and are now nervous about something similar happening, or they started riding late in life and are worried about all they need to know. Maybe after a long break from horses their confidence is not what it was. These are just some of the problems we encounter besides the feelings of anxiety, fear, tension or panic when riding or handling a horse. This workshop will assist you to change your behaviour through the power of the unconscious mind using Neuro Linguistic Programming and Hypnotherapy. Over the 2 days you will take a quantum leap forward in relation to your personal development and the relationship with your horse.

“Neuro Linguistic Programming is the most powerful tool for change that exists today.” — Psychology Today
